Breaking Down Silos to Move Virginia Forward

Resilient Virginia conferences bring together professionals from every sector and every industry across the state for knowledge exchange and networking to Move Virginia Forward in adapting to climate, environmental, social, and economic challenges.

Our Vision

Virginia communities adapt to climate, environmental, social, and economic challenges to become more resilient, healthy, and safe places to live, work, and prosper.

Our Mission

To accelerate resiliency planning in communities across the Commonwealth.

Our Goals

To inform diverse community representatives around the Commonwealth about natural, climate-related, and man-made challenges; to educate key groups about models for community resiliency planning; and to activate these communities to engage in resiliency plan development.
